

Ansgar Baums

Ansgar Baums is an expert at the intersection of geopolitics, technology, and business and currently serves as a Senior Advisor at Sinolytics, where he advises companies on strategic matters. He is also a non-residential Senior Fellow at the renowned Stimson Center and was the 2023 Helmut Schmidt Fellow at the German Marshall Fund. Additionally, he supports the public affairs agency SUB Erste Lesung as a Senior Advisor. Prior to his current role, Ansgar Baums was responsible for government relations at Zoom Video Communications. Before that, he held various leadership positions in the corporate world, most recently as Head of the...

Topics

Globalization, Politics, Policies & Economy, Society, Transformation, Innovation & Technology, Trends, Future & Science

Languages

English, German

