

Expert in Business Strategy, Sales & Leadership

Philip Semmelroth

Philip Semmelroth is a business strategy expert, entrepreneur, bestselling author, and managing director of PS GmbH. He supports companies in increasing their sales success, optimizing processes, and effectively managing employees. Together with his team, he has a proven track record of making companies more profitable—through tried-and-tested strategies, clear structures, and consistent implementation. His entrepreneurial career began early: At the age of 18, he founded his first company, which he successfully sold to an investor at the age of 40. Today, he passes on his extensive practical experience as an entrepreneur and sales coach to people and organizations—across industries and internationally....
