

Jonas Geissler

Jonas Geissler is considered one of the leading time experts in the German-speaking world when it comes to the conscious use of time in organizations. As a SPIEGEL bestselling author, speaker and organizational consultant, he combines sound scientific insights with practical approaches – placing one central question at the heart of his work: Why the Future of Companies Is a Question of Time and how can companies act effectively without constantly overburdening themselves? Jonas Geissler challenges outdated myths about time and shows why time cannot simply be managed. Instead, it is a decisive key to innovation, healthy work structures and...
