

Dani Arnold

Dani Arnold has been living his passion for 20 years: extreme mountaineering. Expeditions have taken him all over the world to challenging routes in rock and ice. Born in 1984, professional mountaineer and mountain guide Dani Arnold, preferred in 2011 to hang up his job as a machine mechanic and follow an unknown path into the mountain world. It was like a return to his roots, because he grew up at 1700 metres, high above the Schächen valley, and went to school every day by cable car down into the valley. Mountaineering, expeditions, rock climbing and ice climbing in various...
