Eva Schulte-Austum: Success Factor Trust – Trust helps us to master crises, to recognise opportunities and to use them sensibly. Eva Schulte-Austum is a trust expert with a passion. For more than 10 years, the business psychologist has accompanied people on their way to a trusting relationship. She knows that trust not only makes people happy, but also successful. Our society and our working world are undergoing a radical change that affects everyone. The only question is how we shape it. The current questions on the topic of trust, a new corporate culture, transformation and the future of the working...
