

Lars Thomsen

Lars Thomsen is one of the world's leading futurologists. He is particularly known for his expertise in the areas of energy, mobility and smart networks and is considered one of the most authoritative experts on the future and change. Thomsen is a sought-after consultant for entrepreneurs, companies, institutions and government bodies in Europe when it comes to shaping future strategies and business models. His extensive portfolio now includes more than 800 renowned companies that rely on his expertise. Lars Thomsen Lecture topics Mobility of the future: New vehicles and autonomous machines for the transport of people, goods and commodities Factory...

Topics

Globalization, Politics & Economy, Politics, Policies & Economy, Robotics & Artificial Intelligence, Society, Transformation & Digitalization, Transformation, Innovation & Technology,

Trends, Future & Science

Languages

English, German

