

Steffi Jones

Steffi Jones – Respect and fair play Steffi Jones is clearly more than a footballer and coach. She is a role model. Like no other, she shows that it is possible to go your own way in a male domain. And that twice: because the most successful and best-known German female footballer has achieved what only very few sportswomen and sportsmen succeed in doing: a career after a career. This success was not a matter of course. Growing up without a father in the troubled Frankfurt district of Bonames and teased because of her skin colour, Steffi Jones had to work hard...
